Nottawaseppi Huron Band of the Potawatomi Hosts Annual Pow-Wow

(Fulton, Mich.) The Nottawaseppi Huron Band of the Potawatomi, located in Fulton, Mich., will host an annual pow-wow on June 23 and 24, 2012 at the Pine Creek Reservation.

The pow-wow includes traditional Native American food, culture, dancing, singing, handmade Native American arts and crafts, parade, 50/50 raffle, and a car show. The pow-wow is free to attend and open to the public.

“We are very proud to offer this pow-wow to our membership and our community,” commented Homer A. Mandoka, tribal chair for the Nottawaseppi Huron Band of the Potawatomi. “This is a great occasion to celebrate our Native American heritage and culture, as well as a time for fellowship.”

The June 23 and 24 pow-wow will also feature a 5K, or 3.1 mile, run and 1K, or a .62 mile, walk on Saturday, June 23, 2012. The 5K is set to begin at 9:00 a.m. and the 1K is set to begin at 10:00 a.m. Runners and walkers can register for the run and walk on the day of, beginning at 7:00 a.m., with a cost of $20 for the 5K and $5 for the 1K, with all proceeds going to Relay for Life to benefit the American Cancer Society.

For more information or pow-wow vendor opportunities, please visit www.nhbpi.com or contact Mon-ee Zapata, cultural specialist, at 269.729.5151 or mzapata@nhbpi.com.
